PAID DEATH PENALTY ISAAC PAYLOR HANGED AT BOYD-

His Crime, the Brutal Murder of His Wife-First Protested His Innocence, and Then Confessed-His Explanation.

BOYDTON, VA., May 20 .- (Special.)leaac Paylor, the wife-murderer, paid the penalty of murder on the scaffold today. He was not a Mecklenburg negro, having come here from Person county, N. C., in which State he had already served a term in the penitentiary, though only 23 years of age. He came here as a fugitive from justice last July, and in January brutally murdered his wife with a club, put her body in a gully, and only partially covered it with sand and leaves. At the trial the proof of his guilt was positive, beyond doubt or question, and in accord with the verdict of "murder in the first degree," Judge Homes, of the County Court, sentenced Paylor to be hanged on to-day, May 20th. CONFESSED. On the trial, and for some time after-wards, the murderer loudly proclaimed his innocence. Recently he made a confession, acknowleding the killing, but saying he was mad, and hit harder than he intended, and that when he realized he had killed his wife he became frighted, threw her limp body over his

ON THE SCAFFOLD. few minutes before 1 P. M. the condemned came from his cell, escorted by the Sheriff, two deputies, and the Rev. W. E. Thompson, of the Methodist church Unassisted, he mounted the scafchurch. Unassisted, he mounted the scaffold with a firm step, and, facing the small crowd of guards, physicians, and witnesses in the jail enclosure, in a firm voice, and without a quiver, addressed them for a few moments. At the conclusion of his remarks Rev. W. E. Thompson offered a short and impressive prayer, Paylor was then handcuffed and his legs tied, and the noose was adjusted and the black cap put on. On the scaffold were deputies, Clack and Balles; Sheriff Williams, of Southampton; Sheriff Turnbull, of Brunswick; Rev. W. E. Thompson, and a few guards. At 1 P. M. the trap was sprung, and Paylor was sent into eter-nity. The drop was about 6 feet, and though life was extinct in nine minutes Drs. Carter and Eppes would now and then feel his pulse. Twenty minutes af-ter the trap was sprung the physicians pronounced him dead, beyond a doubt, and the rope was cut. There was no ex-citement or hitch in the proceedings. The body will be buried by the county, Paylor's father, who was here yesterday from Person county, N. C., having refused to accept it, although people here were willing to pay for its transportation to that point.

EPISCOPAL COUNCIL.

THIRD DAY OF THE SESSION AT

WINCHESTER. Supplementary Delegates-The Report on Parish Missions-State of tion to Diocese-The Seminary.

Church-Convocations and Rela-

WINCHESTER, VA., May 20.-(Special.)-The third day's business session of the 1034 Diocesan Council of the Protestant Episcopal Church in Virginia opened this morning. Many of the lay and ministerial delegates had already left for their homes, and when Bishop F. M. Whittle called the council to order at 9:30 scarcely half of the delegates were present. Atter the opening prayer Bishop-Coadjutor Robert A. Gibson took the chair, and the order of the day was the election of supplementary lay delegates to the Episcopal General Convention, which meets in Washington next October. J. M. Garnett. of Middleburg; Roswell Page, of Richmond; Albert Baker, of this city, and Judge A. C. Wallace, of Fredericksburg, were elected, Rev. Dr. John McGill offered a resolution changing the opening day of the annual council from Wednesday to Tuesday, and appointing Friday evening for a sermon by the Bishop. The ministers appealed to the council especially in behalf of the latter clause of the resolu-tion, saying that they preached to their congregations during the year until they were "tired of their own voices," and they thought that an annual sermon from selves as auditors, would add greatly their own spiritual feelings, and that they would return to their pastorates strengthened, refreshed, and reinvigo-rated. The resolution was adopted. PARISH MISSIONS.

Mr. Roswell Page submitted a report on parish missions, which showed that some country ministers were receiving salaries below $200.

The report on the state of the Church was submitted by Rev. J. J. Gravatt, of Richmond. A failing off in baptisms was reported from 773 in 1897 to 599 this year. Ministers are urged to admonish the people not to defer the baptism of their children, and advised to appoint a regular time for the celebration of this rite. Fewer confirmations than last year are reported.

The Woman's Auxiliary, the St. Andrew Brotherhood, and the Sunday schools reported progress. The council reconvened at 12:30 o'clock after services, at which Rev. George W.

Nelson, of Warrenton, preached. Rev. Mr. Nelson resumed the discussion of the canonical relation of the convoca-tion to the diocese, by arguing in favor of his minority report, which is a resolution "that it is not expedient to change the relationship of the convocations of the Diocese of Virginia to the diocese."
In May, 1897, when the council met in Fredericksburg, a committee, consisting of Revs. H. B. Lee, C. W. Neison, W. D. Smith, Major R. T. Scott, and Mr. George G. Williams, were appointed to consider and report to this council on the propriety of bringing the convocations into canonical connection with the diocese. The majority report recommends that the whole diocese be divided into missionary districts, to be known as convocations, the chief purpose of which shall be to arouse and further the missionary in-terests and zeal in the several parishes.

Convocations have existed as voluntary and independent organizations for many There are now five convocation in the dioces-Rev. W. D. Smith, of Fredericksburg repudiated the implication that the majority report was inspired by selfish motives. After prolonged and at times sharp discussion, a resolution, introduced by Rev. Dr. John McGill, was adopted which practically leaves the matter in statu quo until the council meets next

THE BIBLE CAUSE.

A letter was read from Rev. William S. Campbell, secretary of the Virginia Bible Society, stating that there were assembled at Camp Lee, in Richmond, about 3,690 troops, many of whom were without Bibles, and asking that any one desiring to aid in purchasing Bibles for the soldiers do so at once.

Rev. Nelson P. Dame offered a resolution which enables the Bishop to appoint ministers from each convocation to min vacancies in churches. The resolution was unanimously adopted.

Mr. Joseph Bryan reported from the Committee on Finance, showing a balance for some years. This balance for some years. This balance was augmented by the generosity of Bishop Whittie, who again contributed $500 to the fund from his salary.

The council reconvened at 4 o'clock, and Rev. J. W. Ware offered a resolution of the world's country of the and chiral church, which was adopted by a rising yoke, and on motion of Rev. J. C. After considerable discussion, Rev. Landon R. Mason, of Richmond, withdrew his resolution in connection with a proposed change in the close corporation feature of the Board of Trustees of the seminary, in the exercise of its appointing power in filing vacancies in the form the person to fill such vacancy, the method of taking and determining the same to be such as the trustees may demand the world's area, and the form in the chose of the seminary, in the exercise of its appointing power in filing vacancies in the chould be solded by the council.

What this change means in trade expansion at home and abroad can scarcely be comprehended now. First, it means a great navy and a great mercantile marine, taxing for years to come the utmost capacity of every ship-vari—two things alone which are of incalculable value to our business interests; the construction, with the utmost speed, of the Nicaraguan canal under American control, and to the South this canal will annually add greater wealth than its entire cost; the development of Cuba, and by good sanitary measures the practical climination of the danger to the South from that country of yellow-fever; the establishment of coaling stations in the Pacific and the control of a large part of the trade of the Eastern world.

Truly, we are living in a wonderful time, when it may almost be said that Dewey fired a shot that made it possible to see the fulfilment of Scripture in that "a nation shall be born in a day." This nation has had a new birth, and it enters upon its new life with a glorious future—a future of great responsibility, of tremendous progress, of peace, and prosperity among our own people, an end of the cry that the rich have no patriotism, a united people, and a united country, taking our place as the foremost nation of the world in the advancement of civilization and in the extension of trade.
